6. After done, click on "Modify" button at bottom of the page.

7. Double check latest domain info via Whois (<https://whois.mynic.my/>)

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying <https://whois.mynic.my>. The page features the MYNIC logo and the text "Whois Service". Below the logo is a search form with a "Domain Name" input field, a ".com.my" dropdown menu, and a "Submit" button. A "Help" link is also visible. A red warning message states: "The current whois only supports ASCII characters. If you like to check WHOIS information for IDN, please click here to convert your IDN domain name to puny code." Below this, a list of search options is provided: "Select the type of search: a. Domain Name, b. Registrant Name, c. Registrant Code, d. Contact Person's Code, e. Name Server Hostname, f. Name Server Code, g. IP Address". A note indicates: "Note: Code is previously known as MYNIC Handle. The query limit is 500 per day from the same IP." At the bottom, there are links for "[MYNIC Homepage]", "[Whois Policy]", and "[Whois Faq]", followed by the copyright notice: "Copyright © 2004-2019 MYNIC Berhad. All rights reserved."
